

The Creative Health & Wellness Clinic

is offering Summer Sessions for social groups for children & youth with autism!

Description: The Social Group engages children and youth with autism and other disabilities to have the opportunities to practice social skills through fun and creative music sessions with their peers, sibling and family members. Family members will be able to join-in at the end of class! You and your child will have fun creatively through music, art and drama in class and even more fun learning special musical activities to share at home. One on one or group sessions available on a weekly basis.
